10. Write a precis of the following paragraph :
Unemployment arises from a variety of causes. One that is always recurring and of the effects of which we have had a recent example, is the disorganisation of industry resulting from a long war : this is a serious problem admitting of no easy solution at the marked diminution in the quality of raw product, such as cotton : fewer hands are required in the mills and factories. We may call this cause 'Bad harvest'. Similar but more serious is the effect of changes in industry due to the invention of machinery which does more work and requires fewer workers. And yet

- another cause is a strike or clock-cut and this is the more to be deplored, because such a stoppage some times is due to a very trivial matter, perhaps the fact that men are working half an hour longer than the regulations of their union permit.
