Speech is a great blessing, but it can be a great curse, for while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to fellows, it can also, if we use carelessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of the tongue, the use of an unusual word or an ambiguous word, and so on may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again different classes of people have different vocabularies and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride, unwittingly we may use a word which bears different meaning to our listener from what it does to men of our own class. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought but one which demands careful handling.
