in 1960- the first recipient was R.K. Narayan for his novel "The Guide." Over the years, the Akademi has introduced other awards such as the "Bhasha Samman," "Yuva Sahityakar and 'Bal Sahitya Puraskar.' The first awards were given in 1955. The award amount was initially Rs. 5000 and has been gradually raised- it has been Rs 1 Lakh since 2009. The Akademi is under the Central Government's Ministry of Culture, but works as an autonomous institution. To be eligible "the book must be an outstanding contribution to the language and literature to which it belongs." It may be a creative or a critical work', but must not be a work of translation, an anthology, an abridgement, compilation or annotation, or university research paper. A committee of 3 writers, selected by Akademi President, out of a panel of 7 names recommended by the language Advisory Board, chooses the awardee in each language.

Questions:

- (a) What is the sole motive of the Sahitya Akademi?
- (b) Who established the Sahitya Akademi?
- (c) What kinds of awards does the Akademi present?
- (d) What are the new awards that have come up over the years?
- (e) What is the eligibility criterion to get a Sahitya Akademi award?

Section-C

9. Translate the following paragraph into Hindi:

Would one have ever thought that one day we will be on the moon! It was just like a dream, wasn't it? But now it seems that it is going to be possible in the near future. Similarly whatever seems difficult to us today is not necessarily difficult (out of the reach). Therefore, we must atleast try. As well, we should keep patience because something if not that difficult, is not that easy either.
